Fla. Sugar Committee Reports To Mills Producers To Honor Holland At Dinner

Chairman Harry Vaughn of Governor Bryant's Sugar Committee, joined by John Tidike, Secretary reported to operating and planned sugar mill operators of the Glades Tuesday, on results of meetings with the refineries and the Beet Sugar Producers held in Washington recently by these two, plus George Salley, Vice-Chairman.

"The industry-wide mutual interests have heretofore been generally resolved during negotiations with the Department of Agriculture and State Department for the benefit of Congress in writing sugar legislation, and we feel that progress has been made towards solution of some of the problems now facing us with the continental quotas," Mr. Vaughn reported to the eleven active operators and four mills in the planning and prospective stages.

It developed during the discussions that Florida expects to produce near 400,000 tons of sugar for the 63-64 season, with prospects for a 50 percent increase during the 64-65 season. Proposed added milling capacities would increase this by 250,000 tons for the 65-66 season.

Detonating Dynamite Does Damage

Despite dynamiting, high governmental advising, and union activities not complimentary to the FEC railroad, the Mogul, says "Run En."

In preliminary measures, a converted station wagon, with flanges attached to the wheels to keep the rubber tires on the rails, patrols the tracks of the FEC Railway, particularly ahead of scheduled trains.

There are "bombs" on the front of the machine, about six feet high each topped with a red flag to intercept whatever might be strung across the track — a window each weight stretched about five feet up marked a washstand at one time without hurting anyone badly.

A "sweep" attached to the front bumper catches chains and other impediments that might be placed on the track.

These converted station wagons are manned by two guards each, and as they are "riding shotgun," they are prepared for eventualities.

The Mogul of the FEC is a daylong good old Americanism. It can run one's own business as one sees fit, even if it goes down with a bang.

It goes with the general machinery of those who are elected to uphold Americanism, and the Union.

There's intestinal fortitude involved — in the "bombs" who says "run en" and the men who "ride shotgun," after signing a release in event of "personal injury or death."

Bonard said that Isley had gone to bed at 11:30 p.m. and awoke to find a man in his room. Isley, when Spencer entered, forced Isley to give him some money and hit him. Isley stabbed him in the back with a small pocket knife, in defending himself.

John F. Kirk Bids For Sheriff Office

Veteran law enforcement officer, John F. Kirk, has formally announced his candidacy in the Democratic primary for the office of Palm Beach County Sheriff, an office he held for 16 years until 1961.

Kirk, a seasoned law enforcement officer with over 22 years service in Palm Beach County is a law enforcement officer, and "My many friends and acquaintances have requested that I file for this high law enforcement office — there have been so many people contacting me that I feel compelled to once again seek the office of Sheriff."

Kirk, who was born in Springfield, Missouri, became a resident of Pahokee in 1928, where he was appointed to the Police Force. In 1929 he was appointed Constable of the 7th District and held both jobs until 1932 when he resigned to take the appointment as Chief of Belle Glade, he also served as Constable of the 8th District and Deputy Sheriff. He held both jobs until 1945 when he was elected Sheriff of Palm Beach County.

"There is more to being a good law enforcement officer than sitting behind a desk," Kirk said. "There is responsibility for experience. My past record shows that I have been a capable administrator, as well as a seasoned law enforcement officer. A good Sheriff must be ready, willing and able to face any circumstance or emergency, regardless of the time or place. Not once in my 22 years have I ever asked a Deputy to perform a duty that I would not do myself."

Kirk pointed out that when he took over as Sheriff in 1945, he found himself with only four Deputies and one jailer. When he left in 1961, there were over 90 Deputies in the payroll. Kirk was actually the dean of the Father of the Sheriff's Department as it is known today in Palm Beach County. Kirk established the Civil Department, Criminal Department, Road Patrol, Sheriff's posse, installed the Sheriff's two-way radio system, set up the first crime lab, and purchased the first ballistic machine in the County. "It is interesting to note," Kirk added, "that the budget to run the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department has almost doubled in the little less than four years I have been out of office. My administration supplied better law enforcement than the people of Palm Beach County are now receiving at a far less cost. Although the budget has almost doubled — the population of the County has not."

Kirk resides with his wife and two of his four children in West Palm Beach. Two of his children are married, one living in Riviera Beach and the other living in Tallahassee.

Kirk is a member of the Northwood Baptist Church, the Masonic Order, the Lake Worth Country Club, the Mahi Shrine, WOW, United Commercial Travelers, The Royal Order of Jesuits, Elks, Charter member of the Abu Shrine Club, Director of the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch, and is a Past President of the Florida Sheriff's Association.

In announcing his platform for re-election, Kirk said that his real aim is to restore good law enforcement to Palm Beach County and to give to the taxpayers the finest enforcement of the law in the State of Florida. Kirk cited specific areas as follows:

control to its original purpose, and thus help end the slaughter of Palm Beach County Highway that has taken place in the past four years.

Renew the prompt efficient service of the Sheriff's Department.

Upgrade the efficiency of the Criminal Department of the County.

Guarantee to serve all people, both Civil and Criminal, in the same courteous and efficient manner as in the past, when he was Sheriff of the County.

Re-establish the Harbor Patrol as required by State Law. Sheriff Kirk originally organized the Harbor Patrol at a cost of only $6,000 to the taxpayers. However, it consisted of over $75,000 in both equipment and boats given by the residents interested in the much-needed Patrol.

A Lake Harbor resident for 18 years, Weaver observed his 50th birthday yesterday. "I am confident that Palm Beach County is on the threshold of a more promising future," he said. "The County Commissioner's post is of sufficient importance to be a full-time responsibility and I pledge, if elected, to make it just that."

Furthermore, Weaver declared, "there is a great opportunity to bring about more harmony, understanding and cooperation between the Glades area and the coastal areas. I pledge to cooperate with my fellow County Commissioners to the end that all of our County will be well served."

Weaver added, "Ours is such a large and diversified county, and only realizing a high degree of unity and cooperation can we attain our fullest economic potential. I will dedicate my efforts toward this goal."

During World War II Weaver was one of 600 civilian technicians with the Navy.

Considered by his friends and around the Glades to be a good, solid, respected citizen, Weaver is a family man, married 30 years.

The Weavers have three children, the eldest, Patricia, is a registered surgical nurse. A son, W. W. Weaver, Jr., is a law enforcement officer. Yes... We're Mighty Proud... And Grateful To All Of You!

Seventy-eight members of Belle Glade High School band plus the drum major have been outfitted with spark-new uniforms—all paid for—as a result of overwhelming support and interest of Glades folks, band instructor Fred Stevens announced this week.

"It was simply miraculous," Mr. Stevens reported. "We were able to make payment in full on the invoice which totaled $6988.80."

The new blue and gold double-purpose uniforms are designed for concert wear and have an overlay piece which adds a lot of color and flash for marching, Stevens said.

Most of the money was raised by the Band concert and funds left over from the football program, plus individual donations met the full amount of the purchase, he said.

Road Construction Being "Stepped Up" In Glades Areas

The County Commission this week took several actions aimed at stepping up road construction in the Glades section of the county.

In one action, requested by Commissioner Paul Rardin, the board approved initiating for a mile of road, to be known as Nine Mile Bend Road, which would relieve traffic congestion in the Glades caused by sugar cane carriers shuttling from field to mill.

The present road, Rardin said, is known as Step Child Road and is presently being used by cane carriers.

Request for improvement of the road came from the Lake Shore Growers Coop and Rardin said widening and resurfacing the road would be another important link in the county's farm to market road network.

In another action, the board agreed to ask the State Road Department to provide plans for Larrimore Road in order that steps could be taken to determine where crossings and water lines should be located.

The commission also voted to ask for bids for resurfacing a seven mile stretch of Ramie Road.

Another action, and in answer to a request by the South Bay PTA, the board voted to ask the State Road Department to conduct a traffic light survey on State Road 80 at the South Bay School. Heavy traffic at this time of year, the request said, is endangering the life of school children who have to cross the road where no signal is in operation.

The board also agreed to start right of way condemnation proceedings for improvement of Ice Plant Road, as soon as necessary agreements are made available by the State Road Department.

Blood Needed For Five Year Old Boy

The Palm Beach County Chapter of the Leukemia Society, Inc., is again appealing for blood for a five year old boy stricken with leukemia. Donors are asked to contact the Palm Beach Blood Bank at 15th St., West Palm Beach.

One of the special events, the Polo Match held in Gulfstream on Sunday, added substantially to the Leukemia Society, Inc., drive. These funds, along with our Marcher's collections will help fight leukemia. Efforts of supporters of the Leukemia Society have been instrumental in extending the life span of victims and helping families thru the disease's ravages, both financially and emotionally.

Falcons To Play Belle Glade Here

Defending champion Forest Hill today is alone atop the Suncoast Conference diamond race standings, but the Falcons must visit two once-beaten teams within three days this week either of which may well deter the champs' unbeaten pace.

After starting with a non-league triumph, Forest Hill has repelled four straight conference foes to take undisputed first place. Tuesday night they trip to Ft. Pierce which has lost only to Belle Glade in four league contests, and Thursday the Falcons journey to Belle Glade.

The five clubs which are close by bunched behind Forest Hill should be considerably more spread out by week's end in Palm Beach, tied with Ft. Pierce for second, visits Stuart, co-leader in fourth place, Tuesday, then calls on winless Seacrest Thursday. Belle Glade and Riviera, tied with Stuart, meet Tuesday.

Forest Hill attained the top last week by downing Seacrest Tuesday 6-1, then blanking Stuart 7-0 Friday. Palm Beach moved into the second spot by edging Vero 3-1 Wednesday.

then squeezing past Lake Worth 2-1 Saturday night. Ft. Pierce kept even with the Wildcats by whipping Riviera Tuesday and Pahokee Friday both by 5-3.

Eleven games are on this week's card which is crowded up a bit by the Good Friday holiday. Other games Tuesday send Lake Worth to Vero Beach and Seacrest to non-league Boca Raton. Additional frays Thursday have Vero at Stuart, Pahokee at Lake Worth and two non-conference matches, Melbourne at Ft. Pierce and Jupiter at Riviera.

Several Uses For Fabric Softener

If static electricity causes your wool skirts to cling to nylon slips, use fabric softener in your laundry.

Miss Mary Todd, Palm Beach County Home Demonstration Agent, says fabric softeners are used primarily to restore softness and fluffiness in articles washed at home. It's available under several brand names in your local markets.

Added to the final rinse water, fabric softener forms a coating on the surface of every fiber. This coating eliminates static electricity in synthetic fabric, softens baby clothes and woolens; and fluffs shag rugs, terry robes and chenille bedspreads.

Use softener when laundering your fiberglass curtains to make them pliable and comparatively soft.

There are other benefits from using softener that you'll appreciate. Static-free clothes attract less dust from the air. Treator fabrics are easier to iron, and softener makes fabrics easier to stitch when mending clothes. With softener, fewer wrinkles and creases result from laundering, and treated clothes are easier to iron.

Because softener makes fabrics absorbent, use the product sparingly or infrequently on dish towels and terry towels used in the bathroom.

Don't confuse this product—used softener—with a water softener. Use it as directed on the label.

William Shakespeare, A Biography, A. L. Rowse.

The controversy this book has aroused among Shakespearean scholars is a mere "pink" among the splashes and tidal waves the subject has stirred up over the years. To some the claims it makes are conservative, but when compared to those of one book a decade ago which credited Queen Bess with the writing.

A. L. Rowse is considered the greatest living authority on Elizabethan England, a poet whose boyhood years, amid customs which survive from Shakespeare's day, are as vivid as his writing. He squashes the theory that someone of his background than Shakespeare did the writing, by ignoring it, and makes eloquent pleas for his view of Shakespeare's relationship with Southampton, and the mysterious "dark lady" of the sonnets, for his incredible development as a writer, and his more incredible output. Excellent reading for the Shakespeare buff, it should be read, as well, those who have never before taken time to satisfy a curiosity about the bard.

BIRTHS

Decorate Easter Eggs

Your family will relish their Easter eggs more if you hard-cook, rather than soft-boil them, says Miss Izola Williams, assistant nutritionist, Florida Agricultural Extension Service. Why? Because hard-boiled eggs are tough. Hard-cooked ones are tender.

To hard cook eggs, Miss Williams suggests that you place the eggs in a pan and cover with cold water to at least one inch above the eggs. Bring rapidly to a boil; remove from heat; cover and let stand for 20 minutes. Cool eggs quickly and thoroughly in cold water. Put them in the refrigerator until you are ready to decorate them.

When it's time to decorate the eggs, one of the simplest ways to color hard-cooked eggs is to use wax crayons to make "home made" designs. Make stripes by drawing them on the eggs with a white crayon before dyeing. The dye will not "take" through the wax. Use scraps of modeling clay to make comic faces. Hats and collars of construction paper give the eggs personality.

For a pleasing Easter breakfast centerpiece add artificial flowers or greenery to an arrangement of Easter eggs. Baskets of gaily-colored eggs, tucked in "grass" and circled by fluffy chickens and Easter bunnies will delight the children.

Around the world for centuries dyed eggs have been exchanged as gifts during the spring as a symbol of new life and nature's awakening from the bleakness of winter.

Letters to the Editor
 City of Belle Glade
 Belle Glade, Florida
 Gentlemen:
 Over the weekend of 1 February, 1964, I had the occasion to use the City facilities located on the Intracoastal Waterway near Slim's Fishing Camp. I usually approach the use of municipal and even state facilities with some apprehension, even dread.
 However, I feel that the officials of the City of Belle Glade should know that the facilities provided, campers and fishermen are excellent. Not only is the location choice but it is readily apparent that the area is maintained conscientiously. I have particular reference to the sanitary facilities which were clean and well stocked, and to the availability of garbage and trash receptacles.
 It is my intention to return to your area this weekend and to use these facilities again, as well as many times in the future. The only area of complaint and for which the city can assume no responsibility is the dearth of bass on that particular weekend, although the "spee" fishing was wonderful!
 This letter is prompted by the promise that where credit is due, due credit should be given.
 Cordially yours,
 Robert C. Flipse, M. D.

"13 Arab States Outlaw Communism U. S. Doesn't" Speaker Tells Rotary

"No Arab country has any military pact with any communist country, including Russia," Mr. James Batel of Coral Gables, a specialist in current developments in the Middle East told the Belle Glade Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting at the Belle Glade Civic Center, Friday, March 20th.

Comparing the status of communism in the Arab World with that in the United States, Mr. Batel stated that "Communism is outlawed in all 13 Arab states, whereas communism is not barred in the United States. The nearest action taken to bar communism in our country is a 5 to 4 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in June 1961 which ruled that Communists must register as foreign agents. As of today that ruling has not been fully implemented by the U. S. Government."

Mr. Batel, an American citizen born in Massachusetts and former lecturer in journalism at the American University in Beirut, Lebanon (1955 to 1957) said that "Most Americans erroneously believe that the Arab World is politically oriented to ward Russia. The fact is the Arab states have no such political pacts as NATO, CENTO or the WARSAW pacts with any communist state. Arab relations with communist states are fundamentally similar, 'with the U. S., namely it is trade.'"

The Coral Gables author and former Nieman Fellow in Journalism at Harvard University, cited: "Since it is within the sovereign right of the United States to sell $200 worth of wheat to Russia—whose Khrushchev has the same right to buy America—surely then the Arab states, which also are sovereign, have the same right to trade with Russia. The Arab states have no entangling alliances with any communist state that would jeopardize the security of the United States, yet that endangers their own sovereignty. The Arab states are not aligned either with the West or the East, and that policy helps to maintain world peace by eliminating foreign interference in Arab lands."

Speaking as representative of the Arab Information Center of the United States, Mr. Batel cited: (1) The Muslim religion, (2) trade travel routes, (3) Arab oil.

"Of the 13 Arab states, all but Lebanon are Muslim in religion. Of 85 million Arabic speaking people, some 80 million are Muslims. The Arab states, along with 12 other non-Arab but Muslim states, compose a formidable bloc in the United Nations membership of 113 states. The Asian-African states number 59. The rest of the world has 54, including the United States. It is most evident that the 25 Muslim states that generally support each other in the U. N. provided a vital nucleus in any action that may be taken in the U. N. Hence, American foreign policy should be most concerned about maintaining friendship with the Arab World."

Turning to the trade-travel routes that connect Europe, Asia and Africa, Mr. Batel said that "such routes pass from the West toward the East only thru the Arab World. Our Country has access to such land, sea and air routes. Similar routes pass through Europe, but Russia blocks free American access to them. That the U. S. does use the routes through the Arab World freely shows the friendship the Arabs have toward the U. S."

As for oil, Mr. Batel said: "60 percent of the world's reserves in petroleum is located in the Arab World. The U. S. reserves total 16 percent. Our country is the world's greatest consumer of oil products. The oil that pours into Europe and thus helps to keep our NATO allies strong and free comes principally from Arab lands. American, British, Dutch and French companies produce the Arab oil. Thus it is controlled by the West and used primarily for the benefit of the West. Arab states receive about 50 percent of the income from oil."

"Thus, consumption of Arab oil by the West enables the U. S. to conserve its limited supply. The strategic position of Arab oil was demonstrated during the Suez Canal crisis when England, France and Israel invaded Egypt. The United States Government demanded that the U. N. condemn the aggressor nations which the U. N. did by a 65 to 4 vote. Because of that aggression, Arab oil stopped flowing into Europe. The United States, therefore, had to rush American oil to sustain Europe's economy. It is obvious that the U. S. with only 16 percent of the world's oil reserves, is in no position to sustain the world with oil as we had to do to keep Russia from enslaving the rest of free Europe."

The speaker was introduced by Pete McClellan, program chairman. A question period followed the talk.

Eddie Buckner led the Rams to another baseball victory Tuesday afternoon in Pahokee. Eddie's pitching record is now 2-1 in the conference. The Rams took the lead in the 2nd inning scoring three runs. John Henderson hit a two run triple and then scored on a Pahokee error. Bootsy Weathers was the leading hitter in the game with two hits and two runs batted in. Other players to get hits Tuesday were: Don Wilcox, Bert Davis, Johnny Spooner, and Eddie Buckner.

Two sophomores will not be playing for several weeks due to injuries: they are Pat Gilbert and Tony Latour.

Harvest Queen Dance Provides Enjoyment

Fun, games, and laughter were enjoyed at the annual teenage dance, which was held after the Harvest Queen Contest sponsored by the Jaycees. The String Bays of Fort Lauderdale provided the music. The String Bays are "beatle" fans and will be back with the band.

The winners of the door prize, Mike Berryhill and Charles Thompson, were presented monogrammed fountain pens. Eight couples enjoyed a round of passing the ball under the table. The winners received Beate records.

The F. B. I.

Recruits are being sought by the F. B. I. here on a visit interviewing seniors for positions in the organization. Mr. Merrick has been working for the F. B. I. for two years and is currently working in the Miami office. The main job with the agency is the position of special agent. This job is open only to male applicants because of the duties required for this occupation. Women may apply for such position as accountant, radio operator, electronic maintenance technician and laboratory aide and technician; but the jobs are filled only by men. For women are nurse, stenographer, typist, and clerk. A few of the jobs available require a college education or a degree in law.

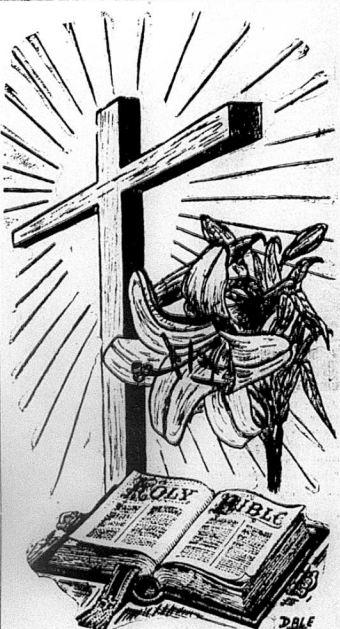

The F. B. I. offers courses in typing and shorthand at their training school. If a person is interested in furthering his education, George Washington University offers a night school program for these persons. For the beginning work, the agency offers a thirteen days paid vacation with thirteen days paid sick leave a year. When a person is accepted by the F. B. I. he must go to Washington, D. C. and work for a certain length of time, then he may transfer to any field office in the United States or Puerto Rico.

Several students have shown an interest in this program, and are filling out applications to acquire office positions with the F. B. I. Some appealing factors are: the F. B. Acts 1:7-11

And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the time or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? How Slow Progress...

Isn't it funny how long it takes to get something done, especially when you want something that is worthwhile? It is usually very easy to do something once you put your mind to it.

Students, parents, and teachers have been trying in vain to make plans for an adequate recreational center for young adults. It seems though that some people aren't in favor of this venture or they don't think that the young people have earned it. Some of the sources which could be of much help to achieve this don't give aid or suggestions at all. What does it take to make a person realize a need for something? There are many fine establishments which are used regularly by the adults. But what about the younger generation? Are we to be forgotten until we reach the age of 21? Yes, there are numerous school and church activities, but there aren't enough to include every youngster in this area. What is needed is a Teen Center. This would be more than just a dance every other Saturday night. The activities could include ping pong, card games, pool, shuffle board, and numerous other indoor games.

A new building, a full time recreational director, money (which could be partly raised by the Teens themselves), and a little bit of cooperation is all that is needed to get the ball rolling. Won't somebody give it a push?

Help Your Child In 13 Easy Lessons

Indicate often and early your child's lack of faith in the school system, the teachers, the new math program, the cafeteria, the cooling system, the school bus drivers and all the rest of the academic circles.

Remind them that it is bunk to believe that education pays. Give them the case history of someone you heard of who succeeded in sanitation, plumbing, or ditch digging with only a sixth grade education. Criticize everyone who tries a new approach in education. When you talk to the teachers, remind them how good the teaching methods were in your school days. Be sure to do it in front of the child.

Never get suspicious when your genius comes home week after week with no books. Believe your brilliant one when he reports that only dumb people get homework.

Tune up the T. V., the hi-fi, and other noise makers when junior asks for quiet while he practices an assigned oration about the war on insects. Skip all P. T. A. meetings; evils which interfere with bridge games or bowling nights. When you get a note from a teacher, read it and get indignant. The teacher obviously doesn't dig the present generation.

Rush to school, the moment that your persnicked child complains that the teacher is pick-

Financial Aid For The College Bound Student

By Coach Luke

It is spring, the time when many senior's fancy turns to thoughts—college? Yes, many seniors for the first time begin to realize that in a few months they will have graduated from high school and can no longer postpone the decision of what they are going to do. True, also, some seniors have decided what they will do, and for some, this includes college. It is for the college bound that the following information is offered. No matter which college one attends today the cost is relatively large and is expected to increase in the future years. Many students each year feel that they are qualified for college entrance but cannot go because of a lack of family finances. To prevent them from entering or to prevent them from graduating is to deny educationally oriented society, it is rare, however, for an academically qualified student who expects to be a member of financial aid to be denied a college education due solely to a lack of finances. There are various methods of granting aid to students, the main ones being outright grants or gifts, loans and work-study. The required money. Normally, of course, the grants are more difficult to get but one who is genuinely interested in acquiring a college education should not shrink from work or the thought of the required repayment of the funds.

The source of the grants and loans are numerous. Some are provided by trust funds of past philanthropists, others by present wealthy persons interested in education, others by industry for preparing capable people for service in their midst, some by governmental agencies and some by private groups. Most of these are administered by the colleges designated for this purpose of foundations set up for this function.

There are numerous ways of finding out about these grants, loans and work-study. Most colleges list many scholarships available to prospective students in their catalogs. Much literature is also put out by both the colleges and sponsoring organizations which eventually ends up in the hands of the students. Also, books have been written listing many of these scholarships and telling how to acquire them.

Many available scholarships go unclaimed each year, either because the student is unaware of their existence or are not willing to put forth the effort to find out about them or to get them.

This financial aid should not be thought of as another status symbol, however, as most sponsoring organizations require as a two most important requirements academic ability and need. The student must be one with near equal ability but one with a much more crucial financial need to apply for the scholarship, it is very probable that the one needing financial aid will receive it.

Considering all of the above, it is important that a student, in planning for college, should include the most important aspect of finances. If a student has a desire to attend college, feels that he has the ability but may not be able to afford it, he should begin to look into possibilities of financial aid before his last year of high school begins. The student can be accomplished by reviewing literature in the guidance counselor's office or by writing directly to the college. He is interested in attending and inquiring about this aid.

Easter is just around the corner and everyone is frantically trying to find a new outfit. Many girls are buying lightweight pastel suits in all varieties of styles. The A-line or the waistless dress which has been popular for some time looks as if it will remain a big fashion item. The small one or one and a half inch heel is a popular height. Butterfly pins are popular accessories. Hats with big floppy brims and the modified cloche are just what is needed to complete the perfect Easter outfit.

Traffic warning, New Rochelle, New York: "Go slow. This is a one horse town."

What Does Easter Really Mean?

This Easter Sunday the Christian churches will be filled. Along with the faithful members will be the one-year attendees. Many men will give up that day of fishing or sleeping; women will be gaily clad in new outfits; children will be stuffed with eggs and candies which the Easter bunny brought.

Yes, they'll all be there for the celebration of the most important day on a Christian's calendar of events. It was almost 2,000 years ago that God destroyed death's sting and freed us from Satan's power by raising His only Son, Easter Sunday marked the end of Christ's suffering for us. Yet, there's more to this day than mere joy.

Easter Sunday can have no real significance unless we can follow Jesus in his sorrowful journey to the cross and devoutly meditate in His sufferings and death.

We must have the courage in our lives that Christ had in his life and especially from the time he was condemned to death. We must have the love in our hearts to forgive others as He did, even in his last hours. We must live the lives of faith and love for Jesus that will enable us to understand what Easter really means.

A Dubious Distinction

Gasoline has the unhappy distinction of being America's highest taxed product. Chart shows federal, state and local taxes levied on gasoline and on other heavily taxed commodities in 1962.

Gasoline	$6.3 billion
Alcoholic Beverages	$5.2 billion
Motor Vehicles	$3.9 billion
Tobacco Products	$3.2 billion

During 1963, for the sixth year in a row, the retail price of gasoline decreased from the preceding year while the overall consumer price index, according to the OIL FACTS reports.

The price index for gasoline went from 102.4 in 1957 to 93.2 in 1963, a decrease of 9 per cent. During the same period the index for all items reported by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics increased from 98.0 to 106.7, an increase of 8.9 per cent.

The index for gasoline does not include federal and state taxes, which add more than 10 cents a gallon on a national average.

These tire-like containers were designed to serve the Army as portable gasoline stations for refueling vehicles of fast moving combat units. Known as "Rolling Liquid Transporters," each container can carry 500 gallons of fuel. Here a standard 2 1/2-ton truck is towing 5,000 gallons of gasoline. Transports can be towed over virtually any type terrain by a large variety of military vehicles.

How 4-H Helps Our Children

More and more youngsters are urban. Such projects as public speaking, leadership and citizenship offered in 4-H Club membership offer a challenge to many of our young people, while 4-H Club Work is one of the largest youth organizations in the world. It is carried on jointly by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, our State universities and the local County government.

What does 4-H stand for? The four H's represent the Head, Heart, Hands and Health. By putting these H's to use and carrying out responsibilities and receiving a satisfaction from their accomplishments.

Through the expansion of the projects we are reaching a larger number of children than ever before. Many people tend to classify 4-H as a rural activity. This fact is not at all true. Much of our present enrollment

What can 4-H do for my child? From the projects and contacts made through 4-H, a door to continued learning and better living is open to our youngsters. The youngsters learn to cultivate methods for making decisions, solving problems and carrying out responsibilities and receiving a satisfaction from their accomplishments.

Through these experiences the youngsters apply the organization's motto, "To Make The Best Better." What better way can we make the best better than the 4-H way—Head, Heart and Health.

Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be. So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17 1/2 feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15 1/2-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space. This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking spots, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many young people (girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvair—still 14 1/2 feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

An open house was held at the plant Sunday, February 23 and after the following day's meeting, guests were treated to a banquet at Druid Hills Country Club. In addition to new heating and air conditioning product information, the assembled dealers were informed of new advertising campaigns and special dealer sales and promotional aids.

U.S. Royal tiger paws.

Only $3 more than ordinary tires.

If you were Pontiac and you had the wildest new car in Detroit—the GTO—what kind of tires would you pick for your tiger? Something special? That's exactly what Pontiac did. They picked U.S. Royal tiger paws, otherwise known as Super-Safety 800s. And for good reason. Here's what the tiger's paw has done in special tests for safety and durability: 100 miles at 120 mph without a failure, 17,000 miles at 85 mph (16 hours a day) without a failure. It has a construction that's taken 100° temperature build-ups without flinching. Well above what it's ever likely to run.

The tiger's paw is sure-footed at high speeds. It corners nimbly and quietly. It gives you a nice sense of stability when you're taking a curve. If you do a lot of driving at turnpike speeds, then you ought to have a set of tiger paws under you. They cost $3 more than ordinary, large-size standard equipment tires and only $2 more in Chevrolet, Ford or Plymouth sizes. We have U.S. Royal tiger paws in stock now. Come in and look them over. They won't bite you.

Planning ahead to serve you better

More powerful gasolines—designed to give you better performance and increased mileage—are almost ready for you to test in your car. You'll find them soon wherever you see the Standard Oil sign.
